

OQ Care

Excessive use of digital devices are being blamed for an alarming increase in health problems, the body deserves proper care and nutrition. It is thus crucial to eat the right foods in order to ensure the body is protected from damage. Lutein and zeaxanthin are two major carotenoids found in human. Like vitamin A, C and E, they function as antioxidants and protect the body from free radicals. Colorful fruits and vegetables should be incorporated into one's diet to ensure sufficient supply of lutein and zeaxanthin in our body.

OQ Care has a combination of natural concentrates, rich in antioxidants lutein, zeaxanthin, vitamins and other bioactive botanical extracts that support health and overall well-being.
